WASHINGTON COASTAL DUNGENESS CRAB INDUSTRY NOTICE
CORRECTION to boundaries of the Quinault U&A

Pot limit adjustments and Makah SMA opener

The Washington coastal Dungeness crab fishery opened on February 1, 2024, with a coastwide reduced pot limit of 400 or 250 for vessels operating under a license that allow 500 or 300 pots, respectively. Beginning 8:00 AM on March 2, 2024, the following changes will take effect:

1. Vessels fishing OUTSIDE the Quinault U&A: Pot limits imposed at the beginning of the season are lifted. Vessels fishing exclusively in these areas may fish their full complement of pots. See below for details of the Quinault U&A boundary.
2. Vessels fishing INSIDE the Quinault U&A: A pot limit of 400 or 250 remains in effect until further notice. For vessels that choose to fish within this area, a pot limit of 400 or 250 will apply to all gear fished by that vessel, regardless of area. See below for details of the Quinault U&A boundary.
3. The Makah Special Management Area (SMA): The Makah SMA is scheduled to open to state fishers at 8:00 AM on March 2, 2024. A 200-pot limit for state vessels will be in effect until 8:00 AM on April 1, 2024. Fishers must register with WDFW 24 hours prior to deploying gear in this area. See the SMA section of this notice for additional details.

Vessels that fish within the Quinault U&A cannot place remaining pots outside of that area. For example, a vessel with a 500-pot license can only set 400 pots if any amount of gear is set within the U&A boundaries as defined below, and the remaining 100 pots cannot be used. Unused buoy tags must be on board the vessel and available for inspection until temporary pot limits are lifted. Storing or possessing crab pots on board any participating vessel in excess of the vessels pot limit is prohibited.

A pot reduction at the start of the 2023-24 season was implemented to ensure equitable access to the resource following strong indications of above average crab abundance. WDFW will continue to monitor indicators of crab abundance and evaluate the need for changes as necessary.

Catch data as reported on State fish tickets forms the foundation for harvest sharing, which is required for co-management. WDFW reminds buyers who fill out fish tickets and vessel operators who sign those fish tickets to be aware of your responsibility to accurately report all information on fish tickets, including catch area when first submitted. When fishing within two or more reporting areas within a single trip, fishers must provide the amount caught in each catch area to the buyer at the time of the landing. A map of WDFW commercial crab catch reporting areas can be found at the following link:
<https://wdfw.wa.gov/fishing/commercial/crab/coastal/maps#catch-reporting>.
